

Room 285	Room 295	Room 315	Room 335
----------	----------	----------	----------

floors. View Lewis & Clark video presentation on the 2nd floor.

room 285 where the opening will be live streamed.

Cake, Madeira, and Portraits: John Hancock's Hospitable Diplomacy during the Revolutionary War Brooke Barbier, PhD Page 9	In Distemper She Died: The Victims of Boston's Witch Trials Alyssa G. A. Conary, MA Page 16	Creating Tactile and Emotional Connections to Make History Relevant Sandy Spector Page 11	Inside the Mysterious Case of the Lindbergh Baby Kidnapping Trial: The Case That Continues to Haunt Justice Dennis Curran Page 16
The Peasant Prince in America: Thaddeus Kosciuszko Kiersten Marcil Page 21	Where Have the Salem Witchcraft Documents Been Since 1692? A Story of Fascination and Preservation Margo Burns Page 30	Drawing on History: How to use graphic design to connect your organization to your audience Larry Stuart Page 13	The Sacco and Vanzetti Case: An Enduring Lesson Thomas J. Carey, Jr., JD, LL.M. Page 24
Ben Franklin's 'Mystery of the Hutchinson Letters' Jeremy Bell Page 7	Suburbs of Hell: Jail Conditions During the 1692 Salem Witch Trials Marilynne K. Roach Page 25	Our Favorite Things—A look at the collections of the Massachusetts Historical Society through the favorite objects of the staff Gavin Kleespies Page 20	After Lizzie Borden: Hosea Knowlton's sensational trial that gripped Boston's North Shore Alison C. Simcox, PhD, and Douglas L. Heath, MS Page 5

you brought your lunch, please bring it with you and join us on the 4th floor.

The First American Revolution: Western Mass before Lexington & Concord Mark Szymcik Page 14	Colonial New York: Land of the Patroon and The Longhouse, 1666–1754 William Matthews Page 10	Illuminating Our Patriots—A program to engage your community in its Revolutionary War history Judy Cataldo Page 16	Remember me to all the friends, Civil War letters Jan Drake, MLIS Page 23
1775 Virginia—The Collapse of Royal Government, the Seizure of a Press, and the Lexington of the South Gerald Holland Page 3	Quock Walker's Journey from Enslavement to Employment to the Abolition of Slavery in Massachusetts Sean D. Osborne Page 22	Interpreting Historic Landscapes—the Stone Walls of our Agricultural Heritage Jeff Howry, PhD Page 17	The Adventures of Louisa Catherine Adams Laura Rocklyn, MFA Page 4
A Redcoat's Son Experiencing the American Revolution Eugene "Gene" A. Procknow Page 22	The Sea Witch: Telling the Stories of USS Salem Quin R. Stuart Page 25	Teaching Social Studies Through a Literary Lens Carl Hanson Page 27	Meet the First Female Cabinet Secretary: Frances Perkins' Rocky Road to Washington Janet Parnes Page 19
General Nathanael Greene and the American Revolution Salina B. Baker Page 15	Exploring New England's Hidden Histories Tricia Peone, PhD Page 14	Eben Horsford and the Invention of Modern Baking Powder Michael Kuchta, BA, March Page 13	Analyzing a Tall Tale: The 1737 Walking Purchase Danny Younger Page 7